Alan was a pupil at Lord Wandsworth from 1939-1948. His brother Geoffrey followed him a few years later.

Alan then went into the Royal Navy but decided Sea Life wasn't for him and embarked on a 27-year career as a Building Society Mortgage Manager.

He settled in Reading with his wife Angela and children, Lara and Lucy. He had a lifetime love of long-distance running (started at school) and when he hung up his running shoes, he was an avid Athletics fan.

After retiring early due to sight problems he threw himself into many clubs associated with sight loss including Blind Bowling and Rambling.

He was very knowledgeable on American history and the Royal family and was very interested in anything war related.

He loved the Sternian reunions in Bournemouth and tried whenever possible to attend.

He passed on the 2nd February 2022, aged 89, after a short illness and will be remembered by his family and friends for his quiet kindness. He will be most missed.
